

Table of contents:

1.	Safeguarding the Space Around Us – the Role of Peripersonal Neurons in Social Imagery Claudia Wilimzig*, Lucas A.C. Derks *Universidad Central de Nicaragua (UCN), Managua, Republic of Nicaragua, Central America International School of Psychology, UCN Representative Office Berlin, Germany Society for Mental Space Psychology (SOMSP), International Laboratory for Mental Space Research, (ILMSR) Nijmegen, Netherlands, Institute for Sociology of the Romanian Academy	p. 3
2.	The Future of Psychiatric Diagnosis lies in Space: and is so off from the DSM-5 that you probably don't want to know Lucas A.C. Derks Society for Mental Space Psychology (SOMSP), International Laboratory for Mental Space Research, (ILMSR) Nijmegen, Netherlands, Institute for Sociology of the Romanian Academy	p. 18
3.	The Survival-Processing Effect Based on The Richness-of-Encoding Hypothesis Vlad Buzducea Department of Psychology, Education and Child studies, Erasmus School of Social and Behavioral Sciences, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Netherlands	p. 23
4.	Death Anxiety and Depression in Oncological Diseases. How the Caregivers are Influenced by the Cancer Diagnosis of Their Relatives Teodora E. Itul-Toderesc, Vasile Constantin University of Bucharest, Faculty of Psychology and Educational Sciences, Romania	p. 27
5.	The Effect of the Fear of Missing Out Phenomenon in the Relationship Between Well-being and Social Media Addiction Diana Nicoleta Doran University of Bucharest, Faculty of Psychology and Educational Sciences, Romania	p. 40
6.	Demand-Withdraw Communication Pattern and Romantic Satisfaction in Young Couples: an Attachment Perspective Ștefan A. Văcărașu University of Bucharest, Faculty of Psychology and Educational Sciences, Romania	p. 54
7.	Info	p. 62